

FROM INSIGHT TO ACTION:
SHAPING THE FUTURE OF RESPONSIBLE MANAGEMENT EDUCATION TOGETHER

MODERATED BY

Omid Aschari

Senior Advisor, United Nations Global Compact

COMMUNITY AND COMMITMENT TO ADVANCE GLOBAL RESPONSIBILITY

What We Heard From You

67 Institutions

36 Countries

73 Voices

- Faculty and students are the backbone
- Deep commitment to sustainability, education, and impact
- Desire for clarity, inclusion, and relevance

STRENGTHS

- UNGC/UN affiliation boosts legitimacy and global appeal.
- Worldwide recognition and expansive international reach.
- Passionate global community of volunteer ambassadors driving RME.

WEAKNESSES

- Inconsistent implementation of PRME across and within higher education institutions.
- Reliance on voluntary participation and limited institutional capacity.
- Predominantly Euro-Western representation among signatories.

OPPORTUNITIES

- The broader UN ecosystem.
- Strategic partnerships across sectors, including international organizations, foundations, and corporates.
- Youth engagement and digital transformation.

THREATS

- Rising global economic and political instability impacts planning and priorities.
- Internal challenges within higher education institutions affect engagement.
- Growing external competition from other initiatives and networks.

Visioning PRME's Future

- Make PRME visible, vocal, and vibrant
- Stronger links to the UN and real-world impact
- Empower students and faculty alike
- Reduce barriers, streamline SIP, embrace innovation

A Shared Framework for Action

