Beyond Sustainability Content: Scaling Responsible Futures Education and Research

The Newcastle University Business School, a PRME Champion institution, hosted the Responsible Futures Skills Lab in collaboration with the PRME Chapter UK & Ireland, bringing together educators, researchers, and academic partners to explore how responsible management education can be embedded across institutions.

The event culminated in the release of two new open-access reports that offer practical insights for scaling responsible futures education and strengthening cross-disciplinary research through collaboration.

Call for PRME North America Steering Committee Nominations

PRME CHAPTER NORTH AMERICA

We strongly encourage colleagues from Signatory institutions to self-nominate or nominate peers who are committed to advancing PRME's mission in North America.

The roles, responsibilities, and expectations for Steering Committee members and officers are detailed in the PRME North America Governance Document, including:

- Steering Committee purpose, composition, and responsibilities (pp. 6–9)
- Nomination criteria and terms of office (pp. 8–9)
- Officer roles and responsibilities (pp. 12-17)

We are particularly committed to building a Steering Committee that reflects the broad range of our signatories, and we warmly encourage nominations from individuals from all types of member institutions, geographical regions, business school disciplines, and perspectives.

Nominate by 24 July >>>

Call for Regional Leaders

PRME Students has opened applications for Regional Leaders. With a one-year volunteer mandate, Regional Leaders play a key role in connecting student-led organizations across PRME Signatory schools, developing and driving engagement in PRME Students' programming and initiatives, and representing the PRME and Global Compact youth voice on global stages.

Apply 15 July >>>

Call for EOI for Hosting the 2028 PRME Global Forum and RME Week

RME Week

The PRME Global Forum stands as a cornerstone of collaboration and innovation, bringing together educators, students, business leaders, and change-makers to advance responsible management education and align with the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). Each year, the Forum sets the stage for transformative conversations and partnerships that shape the future of business education.

Hosting the PRME Global Forum offers a unique opportunity to lead this global dialogue, spotlight your institution's commitment to sustainability, and foster collaboration across sectors and regions. The PRME Secretariat invites institutions to join us in this mission by submitting proposals to host the 2028 PRME Global Forum and RME Week. Hosting offers a chance to strengthen ties within the PRME community, engage with global stakeholders, and showcase innovative approaches to addressing the pressing challenges of our time.

Submit an EOI by 31 July >>>

The Sustainable Development Goals Report 2026

A little over a decade ago, the world embarked on a bold effort to fulfil the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development. The SDG Report 2026 offers a candid assessment of progress: the gains achieved are real, but progress remains uneven and insufficient.

"The direction we choose now will determine whether the progress of the past decade holds – or unravels," shared Antonio Guterres, Secretary-General, United Nations.
