Reimagining Business Education at One Impact Week 2026 in Singapore

PRME was thrilled to participate once again in One Impact Week 2026, hosted by Tsao Pao Chee (TPC) and the No. 17 Foundation.

The week brought together leaders from business, education, government, philanthropy and civil society to explore how systemic transformation can advance the Sustainable Development Goals and accelerate the transition to a Well-Being Economy. Discussions challenged participants to move beyond incremental change and reconsider the systems, institutions and leadership models shaping economic and social outcomes.

Call for Working Groups

PRME is now accepting Expressions of Interest to propose new Working Groups - vibrant communities of Signatory Members advancing collaboration, thought leadership, and action on key topics in responsible management education and corporate sustainability.

We invite proposals that address emerging challenges, opportunities, or gaps aligned with PRME's mission and the UN Sustainable Development Goals.

Submit your EOI by 15 October >>>

Call for Submissions: JRME and AIRM

PRME is thrilled to have launched two journals in collaboration with Emerald Publishing, strengthening our shared commitment to advancing responsible management education and research on a global scale.

Journal of Responsible Management Education (JRME): Exploring how management is taught through the lens of ethics, sustainability and responsible leadership, publishing high-quality research and practical insights to support educators.

Artificial Intelligence and Responsible Management (AIRM): Exploring how AI cna drive ethical, sustainable and accountable business practices.

As part of the PRME community, we would greatly appreciate your support on this PRME-affiliated journal by joining our reviewer community.
