PRME TIME

Earn a certificate for engaging with the Impactful Five in 2024!

The PRME Secretariat is thrilled to offer a new Certificate of Engagement for participating in quarterly Impactful Five (i5) sessions and completing an Introduction to i5 Workshop. These virtual sessions will build on the foundation established in the Introduction to i5 and serve as community building opportunities that will delve into key themes that promote pedagogical innovation in the classroom. Four sessions will be held quarterly and each will focus on one of the following topics: Student engagement, Leadership, Building a Community of Practice, and Research

By attending one session every quarter and completing the corresponding 5-minute survey you will be eligible to receive an i5 Certificate of Engagement for 2024.

The Recommendation on Education for Peace and Human Rights and Sustainable Development

This is the core message of the new UNESCO Recommendation on Education for Peace, Human Rights and Sustainable Development: Learning must be transformative, and help empower learners with the necessary knowledge, values, attitudes and skills and behaviours to become agents of peace in their communities. Education in all its forms and dimensions, in and out of schools, shapes how we see the world and treat others.
