PRME TIME

PRME hosts first-ever Responsible Management Education Week in New York

Responsible Management Education Week took place in New York City from 12-16 June and was hosted by Fordham University's Gabelli School of Business. This week included the 2023 PRME Global Forum, which connected more than 500 participants (in-person and online) from 75 different countries, for a joint commitment to provide educational players with the skills and inspiration needed to balance economic and sustainability goals, while also drawing attention to other important and timely issues such as digital education and accountable leadership.

A full week of discussions, talks, workshops, launches, and social gatherings was brought forth by key partner organizations including the Sustainability Centres Community by the Network for Business Sustainability and the MIT Sloan Sustainability Initiative, the International Humanistic Management Association, the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania, the Tipping Point Fund on Impact Investing, the Positive Impact Rating and the Financial Times.

You can now watch the recordings of all Global Forum main stage sessions.
