

COP28 UAE

PRME TIME

Engage with PRME at COP28!

Join our community of global business education leaders and problem solvers at COP28 in Dubai on 5 December to take action in the battle against climate change at various sessions hosted by PRME Chapter Middle East.

PRME aims to offer a space for universities and business schools to share their climate target challenges, shortfalls, and successes in a transparent and non-competitive space at COP28. Participating deans and faculty will be asked to commit to an ambitious, yet realistic responsibility to integrate sustainability as a core business pillar and center carbon reduction targets in their strategies. Business school leadership has the power to integrate these timely and critical issues within the institutional ecosystem through curriculum, research, and pedagogy. Alongside the collective ambitions and actions inspired at COP28, PRME's Principles-based approach, community, and resources are sure to become even greater tools and spaces to learn, share, and improve.
