

SUSTAINABILITY AT ESCP

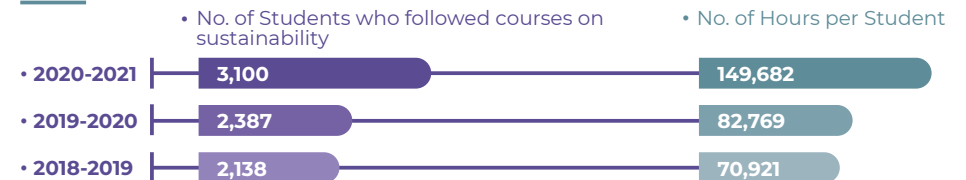

OUR COMMUNITY'S COMMITMENT

This document is an overview of how ESCP acts for tomorrow

- 100% students trained on sustainability
- 200+ courses dealing with ethics, sustainability & social issues
- 145 professors teaching sustainability
- 16 professors in the sustainability department
- 10 Faculty connectors across all departments
- 3 MScs dedicated to Sustainability

1. 100% of our students are literate on climate issues and planetary limits

From Bachelor to EMBA, all of our 8.500 + have mandatory courses on sustainability

Highlights

- A 3 day workshop and a 3 month research on sustainability to start the Pre-master year
- Core course/ mandatory seminar in all programmes (Bachelor, Master in Management, Specialised Master, MBA) across all campuses
- 3 MSc entirely dedicated to Sustainability
- EMBA Induction seminar and new mandatory course in 2023

2. A dedicated academic department and transition team

Joe Miemczyk

- Associate Dean for sustainability
- Member of the Executive committee
- Representative of sustainability for the school, reports directly to the Dean of the school

Olivier Delbard

- Coordinator of the sustainability academic department
- Creator of the first sustainability course at ESCP in 1992

Sustainability academic department

The department focuses on key fields of research such as sustainable business models, circular economy, international business & CSR, sharing economy...

It also disseminates sustainability across all faculty with ambassadors, called "connectors", in each department.

3. Working with our community

Our sustainability transition aims to involve all our stakeholders

A few of our partners

A few of our alumni

We foster sustainable mindsets that end up creating sustainable companies :

make sense
learn · create · transform
